

GUY M. DEANE

Turns Up at Waco, Texas, After Being Lost Since Feb. 17.

COAL OPERATOR AND BUSINESS MAN.

Owensboro, Ky., Feb. 29.—Mrs. W. G. Hardwick, who was reported to have seen Guy M. Deane in Owensboro on Friday, February 19, says this morning: "I am sure Mr. Deane was not here on the date mentioned, Miss Meta Burk and my daughter will also say the same. I have never made a positive statement that he was here, and have always said I might be mistaken. I am sure of it now, and if I could see Henry Hardwick I am sure he would say the same."

According to the story told by John S. Hobson, who returned yesterday from Memphis, Deane was seen at the home of his sister-in-law, Mrs. W. G. Hardwick, on the night of February 19. Deane left the Hardwick house at about 7 o'clock and was not seen again that night by either Mr. or Mrs. Hardwick.

Charles Glenn and T. R. Morton, returning from Central City over the Illinois Central railroad, at 8:30 o'clock Saturday morning, February 20, say they met Deane walking down Fourth street.

Capt. Riley, the conductor, on the Illinois Central, says that Deane was not on his train either Friday night or Saturday morning. Sam Gaines, a coal operator at Eordsville, got on the train Saturday morning at his home town, and says he did not see Deane on the train. Men at the Deanefield coal mines say they have not heard of Deane since he passed through on the train Wednesday morning, February 17, for Jackson, Miss.

Mr. Deane's wife is bearing up remarkably well under the strain. Deane was one of the most prominent and popular young business men of Owensboro, and his mysterious absence has caused a genuine sensation.

Missing Man Found.

Owensboro, Ky., March 1.—Guy M. Deane, a prominent coal operator, who has been missing since Feb. 17, has been located in Waco, Tex., with his brother-in-law, R. S. Triplett.

Dallas, Tex., March 1.—A special to the News from Waco says: Guy M. Deane, of Owensboro, Ky., is here in good health, visiting relatives. Mr. Deane politely declined to talk to reporters tonight, as it was late before they located him. His absence has caused uneasiness to those of his friends who did not know he intended visiting Texas, but explanations wholly satisfactory are said to have been sent by wire and mail.

LONG LOST SON

Found Through an Advertisement in The Bee—Had Been Separated From Family Ten Years.

Queer things are happening almost daily, but one of the most remarkable was the uniting of the Burtcher family through an advertisement placed in the Earlington Bee several weeks ago. Mr. Burtcher is employed in Master Mechanic Walsh's office of the Louisville & Nashville railroad at Howell, Ind., as stenographer and placed a small advertisement in THE BEE in January with his name and address. By some unaccountable means a copy of the paper fell in the hands of a brother of Mr. Burtcher at Canuck, Ark., who at once wrote to him telling him his father and the family had given him up as dead several years ago. Mr. Burtcher left home at a very early age and as the family moved from the old home he lost track of them and had heard nothing of them for ten years. His father, who is over seventy years old and quite feeble, was overjoyed to find his long lost son, and a happy reunion was thus brought about by a small advertisement placed in THE BEE. It pays to advertise.

CREW SLEEPS

As Train Speeds—Death Narrowly Averted by Alertness of Telegraph Operator.

A special from Indianapolis, Ind., dated Feb. 20th says: Rushing through the fog a Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern railway freight train made record-breaking run more than 60 miles, while its engineer and conductor, exhausted after 24 hours' continuous work, almost like dead men. Twice operators, who saw something was wrong, threw switches that prevented disastrous wrecks. Once at Watson, where the train was to meet another, the switch was turned in time to send it tearing off in the direction of Jeffersonville, where Operator Murry, by a timely turning of the switch there, sent it thundering across the Big Four bridge and saved it from a plunge into the river. The train was in charge of a new brakeman and green fireman, who, finally becoming alarmed, let the fire die down. The train started from North Vernon.

Died.

The infant child of Mrs. John Tanner died at 1:30 o'clock Tuesday and was buried at the Earlington cemetery Wednesday afternoon. The little one had been sick for some time and was never healthy. The friends of the family extend sympathy to the bereaved mother.

FIRE IN THE VICTORIA MINE

Has Been Under Control Since Monday and Operations Begun Wednesday.

BUT VERY SMALL DAMAGE DONE.

The fire in Victoria mines near this place was under control Monday and the mine began operation Wednesday. A gentleman connected with the management of the mine and who is in a position to know the facts in the case stated to THE BEE Tuesday that the reports sent out from Madisonville had been greatly exaggerated and the damage done over estimated. He estimates the loss at about five hundred dollars exclusive of an electric mining machine which may have been destroyed. The mine was idle five days, but the fire was isolated and was sufficiently under control to have operated the mine Monday had the management saw fit. Only five small rooms and a portion of one entry were effected. Bulkheads were built and this portion of the mine was flooded. The fire originated from a blast fired late Thursday afternoon and was discovered Friday morning.

MRS. JULIA A. MORTON.

A Prominent Lady of Mortons Gap, Passed Away Sunday.

Mrs. Julia A. Morton, of Mortons Gap, died at her residence Sunday morning after an illness of near a month, caused from heart trouble. She was a thoroughly consecrated woman and will long be remembered for her many noble deeds of kindness. She was the widow of Henry Morton, who has been dead several years, and was about 76 years old. A brother and sister survive her, Dock Littlepage and Miss Marcel Littlepage, who have the sympathy of friends in their distress. The interment took place at Grapevine Monday in the presence of a large gathering of friends and relatives. Elder J. F. Story delivered touching remarks at the grave.

DEATH ANGEL CAME FOR BOTH.

Beautiful Ending of Two Quiet, Unassuming Lives—Dennis McCarthy and His Aged Wife Pass Over River of Death Close Together.

Dennis McCarthy and wife, an aged couple who were for many years residents of this city, died last week of pneumonia in Terre Haute, Ind., within two days of each other. Mr. McCarthy and wife were born in Ireland and came to this country when quite young, he being 20 and she 12 years of age. They were married and came to Earlington about thirty years ago and lived here 22 years. Mrs. McCarthy was taken seriously ill and her daughter, Mrs. Kilroy, of this city, was sent for. When they reached Terre Haute she found her father at the point of death. He died Monday, Feb. 22, and was brought to this place for burial. While the burial service was taking place her mother breathed her last on Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. She was also brought here and placed by the side of her husband in the Catholic cemetery Friday morning. The funeral services were performed by the Rev. A. M. Coenen, of whose church they had been members so long. Mr. and Mrs. McCarthy were earnest Christian people and had been a most devoted couple, they lived their quiet lives as loyal comrades and for once death was kind in taking both together. The sorrowing survivors have the deep sympathy of their many friends in their bereavement.

$100,000

Damages Asked for Death of James B. Marcum.

CONSPIRACY CHARGED IN SUIT.

James and Alex Hargis, Edward Callahan and Lawyer French, Defendants.

Winchester, Ky., Feb. 27.—James Hargis, Alex Hargis and Edward Callahan, of Jackson, Breathitt county, and B. Fulton French, of Winchester, are made defendants in a civil action filed today by Mrs. Abrella Marcum, of Jackson, to recover $100,000 damages for the death of James B. Marcum, murdered in the door of the Jackson courthouse May 5, 1903, and for whose murder Curtis Jett, nephew of James and Alex Hargis, and Thomas White were sentenced to life imprisonment at their second trial at Cythiana last August. The petition states that the defendants entered into a conspiracy with Curtis Jett and Thomas White to murder James B. Marcum and that he was murdered by Jett and White in pursuance of such conspiracy. A. F. Byrd, who prosecuted Jett and White, is one of the attorneys representing Mrs. Marcum.

The suit has been expected several months, as it was known that Mrs. Marcum and her friends and attorneys were busy getting up evidence which they believed would be valuable in the action, but the fact that B. Fulton French is made one of the defendants has created a sensation, as French, although a warm friend of the Hargis brothers, and an attorney in the Jett-White case, has never been mentioned with the alleged plot to assassinate Marcum.

BADGER CAPITOL ROINED BY FIRE

Practical Destruction of the Wisconsin State Capitol Building at Madison.

THE LOSS IS ALL BUT TOTAL.
THE INSURANCE HAVING LAPSED.

A Large Portion of the Contents Saved, Including the Immense Law Library and the Almost Priceless Records Which Resided in Grand Army Hall.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 28.—The Wisconsin state capitol building was damaged $500,000 by fire Saturday. The state carries only partial insurance, being in the process of changing its insurance in companies to a system of state insurance. The fire involves the building of a new capitol, a special session of the legislature and the probable renewal of the agitation in favor of the removal of the capitol from Madison to Milwaukee.

The flames, which started about 3 a. m., by six o'clock had completely ruined the east and west wings, continuing the senate and assembly chambers and the department of the tax commission, the adjutant-general, railroad commissioner, state school superintendent, superintendent of public property, board of agriculture, state normal school, commissioner of fisheries, fish and game warden, state board of pharmacy, state land office, dairy and food commission, state treasurer and commissioner of labor, and were about to attack the department of government, secretary of state, state board of control and the insurance commissioner.

Ten Streams Had Little Effect.

The local fire department had ten streams of water playing on the flames with but little effect.

At eight o'clock the flames were bursting from the extreme windows on the north and south wings, the east and west wings having by this time been destroyed.

The last departments to burn were those of the secretary and party, on the south, the attorney-general and insurance commissioners, on the main floor, and the supreme court law library and state library commission, on the second floor. Practically all the valuable state records are believed to be safe. Most of them remain in masonry and steel vaults in the ruins, and their safety depends on the extent of the fireproof character of the vaults.

Origin of the Fire.

The origin of the fire is now believed to have been a lighted gas jet in a toilet room on the second floor. The flame was close to and ignited a varnished ceiling.

Gov. La Follette was early on the scene, and did much to insure order among the workers.

All the contents of the immense law library in the north end of the building were carried out together with a large quantity of other books and papers. These were not materially damaged. Included in the burned portion was the Grand Army hall. Its almost priceless records were saved and have been stored in temporary quarters.

Fire Chief Overcome.

During the fire Chief Charles Bernard was overcome by smoke and fell from a ladder, receiving serious injuries. He was taken to his home, where he lies unconscious.

Effectively No Insurance.

From an original cost of $600,000, in 1875, appropriations from time to time for new additions, the cost of the state capitol to date about $900,000.

PANAMA TREATY RATIFIED.

Washington, Feb. 27.—President Roosevelt signed the proclamation putting into effect the treaty with Panama regarding the canal zone as soon as the proclamation was signed it was returned to the state department where the exchange of ratifications had taken place between Secretary of State Hay and Minister Bunan-Varilla of Panama. The cabinet was in session when the proclamation reached the White House from the state department. Secretary Loeb took the document to the president and he signed it immediately. The president may not be so quick to sign his appointments on the isthmian canal commission before the first of next week.

EAST FOR CLEVELAND.

Mr. John G. Carlisle is one authority for the statement that everybody in New York wants Grover Cleveland for the Democratic nominee for president. A Washington special to the Evening Post says:

Asked the question, "Of whom do New Yorkers talk the most for the nomination?" he said: "Grover Cleveland—one hears in the offices, on the streets, in the restaurants, from everybody, Democrats and Republicans, bankers and bootlickers."

Kentucky "regular" Democrats will be slow to believe this, particularly those who have their ears to the ground for a Bryan or a Hearst boom. New York may be for Cleveland, but Kentucky will stand for the Hearst brand of a Democrat.

ADVERTISING WILL PAY.

The store that does not use printer's ink and plenty of it in this day and age will not get the business. Look over the advertising columns of any paper and you will find the very best business of that community. You will find that the advertising store is the one that does business for small profits and you will find there the latest styles and the freshest goods and receive the best treatment. Now go to the store that does not advertise and what do you find? Just the reverse, to be sure, and what business, they do get is a kind of overflow from the advertising stores that cannot be taken care of. Newspaper advertising is the cheapest and most efficient that can be done. In no other way can so many people be reached at so little expense. This mode of advertising has doggers, circulars, fence signs and trees skinned a block and the people who read newspapers are usually intelligent cash buyers. Consequently, it behooves every merchant and business man to advertise. Advertise in your home paper first, last and all the time. Some of our merchants are laboring under the erroneous conclusion that if they spend $2 for advertising and don't sell $200 worth of goods that advertising does not pay. This kind of advertising does not pay where a merchant inserts a 10 or 20 inch ad one time and waits two months to see the effect of it. The proper way to advertise is to keep at it eternally and behind the ad there must be a story attractive, well told and the goods to back up said story. Tell it repeatedly and you impress the reader with your sincerity. That's all there is to advertising. The people generally are educated up to the fact that business advertised in a newspaper is reliable or the paper would not give them space, not even for a cash consideration.

KENTUCKY exhibits for the Louisiana Purchase Exposition are to be rushed from Louisville in car lots next week and all exhibitors are urged to hurry in their exhibits. Kentucky has been at the front in the movement for State exhibits and is keeping up the pace for first place at the Fair. If Director of Exhibits Hughes is properly supported in his efforts by exhibitors there will be no room for fault finding with the prompt handling of Kentucky products for the big show.

NEGOTIATIONS at Indianapolis have shaped up well toward a widespread strike of bituminous miners who belong to the union in Western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois.

The union miners have announced they will stand pat for increases in the scale and a run of nine basis. The operators say they cannot afford to continue present scale and ask reductions in some particulars. Both sides say they will make no concessions. The convention will meet again this morning and the question of the scale will be further considered.

An innovation has been announced in extreme union labor circles, that indicates a fusion of the labor into the prohibition party. Instructions have been issued from certain union headquarters that unionists must not drink any whiskey except it bears the union label. If a thirsty man must wait for his drink to be union-labeled he might as well join the party of dries.

UNION messenger boys in Chicago have adopted the "slugging" tactics so long practiced by many town-slop unionists toward independent workers. This is a natural spirit of emulation.

Put Them On Record.

The Thursday number of the Louisville Herald contained this: Dr. W. C. Black, of Barbourville, leader of the Republican minority in the House of Representatives, was at the Willard Hotel last night. Dr. Black is a candidate for Congress to succeed Dr. W. Godfrey Hunter in the Eleventh district.

"The Republican members in the House have not been able to get much," said Dr. Black. "The Democratic majority has been so overwhelming that the hands of all Republicans have been securely tied. Only two bills introduced by Republicans this term have been passed."

"As leader of the Republicans in the Legislature I have succeeded in putting the Democrats on record on every bill which has come up for consideration. For instance, I have put them on record as opposed to the Panama canal. In stating their opposition to the building of the canal they have shown themselves to be opposed to progress and commercial development."

"They also were forced to declare themselves on the bill for the preservation of Lincoln's home. This bill provided for only an expenditure of $10,000, to be handled by a commission without compensation. Every other bill of this sort has passed, and the commissioners are to receive compensation."

"The business of the Legislature has been practically closed. Next Tuesday the Committee on Rules will have the power to place before the House for consideration only such measures as it sees fit to nominate. This means that all the Administration bills will be hastily pushed through the House before the session closes on March 15."

Japan Don't Know.

The Japanese men don't know how to cuss and the Japanese women don't know how to kiss. There is evidently a wide field for reform in the Flowery Empire.—Louisville Herald.

Serum Treatment of Cancer.

Dr. Doyen, of Paris, reports upon the serum treatment of cancer that 21 cases out of 126 were apparently cured by it and 47 were improved. While this is not a large percentage of cures, yet Dr. Doyen's assurance that cancer is curable if treatment is early and persistent holds out to stricken humanity a hope that is infinitely precious.—N. Y. World.

LAW MUST BE UPHELD.

Gov. Vardaman, of Mississippi, States His Views on the Lynching Question.

Jackson, Miss., Feb. 29.—Gov. Vardaman gave an interview today on the subject of lynching which, in view of his utterances during the campaign, has much importance. The Governor, in concluding the interview, said: "I can sympathize thoroughly with one whose friend or relative has been outraged or atrociously murdered by a black brute, but I am not going to encourage people who act a little indiscreetly under the influence of passion thus aroused, but there is one thing certain the law must be upheld, and so long as I occupy the gubernatorial chair, I shall do all within my power to see that the law is enforced. The courts must perform their functions. When this is done, the people will be satisfied."

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK.

People buy and sell—
Consequently, they must tell
What they want to buy and sell.
Begin today.
Ads do pay—
If you would rise
Advertise.

Most people read the advertisements before the news and purchase from those who advertise most. It brings good results to both yourself and the advertiser.

you advertise to draw custom. People who will buy take a paper. They read the paper to find the best places to make purchases.

A well written advertisement is better news to an economical housewife than a letter from home. Strangers and home patrons both read the news. It attracts the attention of many who, otherwise, would never know of business establishments, and secures orders for the enterprising business man.

POLITICAL STATE NEWS.

Hargis and Redwine.

We are glad to see the State Senate call a halt on the House, which passed, without due consideration, the bill to take Breathitt county out of Judge Riddell's district, and, with two or three other counties, to make a district to suit Judge Hargis and Judge Redwine. We believe there is ample time to transact all the business of the various counties if the time given for the sessions of the court be devoted to business and not to adjournments. Anyhow, the State has heard too much of Hargis and Redwine for the past year or two, and they should be quiet for awhile.—Winchester Democrat.

Some Satisfaction Left.

The same old warnings are appearing in the newspapers about the session of the legislative session being not far distant and the flood of bills undiminished. It was ever thus, and what is the difference? The satisfaction is left us that these belated bills have less chance of becoming laws, and surely there is no crying need for them, else they would have been introduced earlier in the session.—Clinton Gazette.

Ramblings Now Heard.

The mountains of Kentucky will soon be rest and quiet if reports about the coming earthquake in the Eleventh district are true. The Hunter and anti-Hunter factions are to meet in one mighty scrap over the nomination for Congress and ramblings of rows and spits and all sorts of things are already heard in the distance. Chances are that the Gunshoe statesman will emerge from it all with a smile of triumph visible upon his mug.—Henderson Gleaner.

Landman's Suggestion.

The Kentucky Legislature has made an appropriation to pay preachers for praying for it. The sum allowed looks pretty stiff, too. We would suggest that the job be let to the lowest bidder. Let each bidder state the length, breadth and depth of the daily supplication, and it might be best to have a sample prayer filed as an exhibit. As prayers offered on such occasions never second higher than the ceiling of the building in which they are made, we see nothing wrong in a little fun over the matter.—Central Record.

Deal Gently With Tramps.

The Iowa Supreme Court has decided that a "tramp" must be put off a train in the tenderest manner. How would it do to have the bumpers padded with feathers, a demijohn in reach, and a signal rope to call the conductor when the booze ran out. When the hobos wishes to wishes to disembark, a Pullman porter might bring him a stepladder and help him off his perch.—Mayville Ledger.

Dwindling Populists.

The Populist party seems to have dwindled down to William J. Bryan and Joel A. Parker. Even Weaver, Towne and Miss Margaret Ingles have deserted the "great common people."—Paducah Register.

Died Suddenly.

Mr. William Small died at this place Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock of pneumonia. He had been sick a short time with la grippe which gradually developed into pneumonia. Mr. Small was formerly of Allensville, Ky., but had been making his home with his daughter, Mrs. Harmon Davenport, of this city, for some time. He was a member of the Baptist church and a good Christian man who had the respect and esteem of all who knew him. He leaves a wife, son and two daughters. The remains were carried to Allensville Sunday, where funeral services were conducted by Rev. Snyder, of that place. The survivors have the sincere sympathy of friends in their great loss.

Millionaire's Poor Stomach.

The worn-out stomach of the over-fed millionaire is often paraded in the public prints as a horrible example of the evils attendant on the possession of great wealth. But millionaires are not the only ones who are afflicted with bad stomachs. The property is far greater among the toilers. Dyspepsia and indigestion are rampant among these people, and they suffer far worse tortures than the millionaire unless they avail themselves of a standard medicine like Green's August Flower, which has been a favorite household remedy for all stomach troubles for over thirty-five years. August Flower rouses the torpid liver, thus creating appetite and insuring perfect digestion. It tones and vitalizes the entire system and makes life worth living, no matter what your station. Engineer Killed and Conductor Seriously Injured by Passenger Train Running Into Cars on Main Track.

Passenger train 104 going east collided with some cars at Cedar Bluff Tuesday which had rolled out on the main track. The passenger was running at a high rate of speed. Engineer Haag was killed, Conductor McKinney seriously injured and the fireman hurt. None of the passengers were injured, although several of them were badly shaken up. Engineer Haag saw the danger in time to tell his fireman to jump, but they were so near the cars neither one had time. The fireman was thrown a distance of forty feet, sustaining several painful injuries.

CABIN HILL ITEMS.

Cake parties have been the go on Cabin Hill for the last week.

The cake party given at Mr. Tom Cleman's Saturday night was not a success. Some young fellow came in just as they began voting and commenced swearing which scared them and all became frightened and left. I guess the old people got to eat the cake by themselves.

One of Cabin Hill's best citizens has moved to railroad street again.

Frank Wyatt and wife visited her mother at Madisonville Saturday night and Sunday.

Ed Beard is on the sick list this week.

Miss Verda Hankins was not at prayer meeting last Thursday night on account of sickness in the family.

The separation of Mr. Bob Gallo-way and wife was a great surprise to the Cabin Hill people.

Mrs. Calins visited her sister, Mrs. Ida Jackson Saturday night and Sunday.

The play party given at Mr. Ed. derage was a success and all report a jolly good time.

J. Patterson is very ill with measles.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wyatt visited Mrs. Wyatt's sister at Nortonville Tuesday night.

No run at the mines Tuesday and the Cabin Hill got to go to Madisonville.

Miss Annie McCully has gone to spend the week with her brother at Crabtree.

WHEN CHOOSING A WIFE.

A Quiet Tip to the Young Man Who Has the Matrimonial Intention.

"Say, I want your advice," said the man to the woman old enough to be his mother, relates the New York Times. "You know I'm thinking of asking a certain young woman to marry me—maybe you don't know it, but I am. Although I think a great deal of her, in some ways I don't know her at all. She's always nice and sweet to me, but sometimes I've felt that she put on her common manners when I'm around. Now, do you suppose if I talked with her mother or I could find out more about her real disposition?"

"No, sir," said the woman. "If you want to know the true nature of your divinity, just consult the butcher or the grocer who takes and delivers orders at her house. I don't mean the head of the firm, but the poor clerk who does the order work. Somehow women get into the habit of thinking that the man who appears at the back door every morning is one of the family, and they dress and act accordingly. The girl who appears in the parlor in a neat waist and trim skirt will slouch out into the kitchen and appear to the butcher's boy in a spotted kimono and a skirt that hangs every which way. She'll scold her mother or sister before she'll tell over her private affairs before him—yes, she may even talk over her love affairs—and she'll call him down for not bringing what was ordered in a manner which you would not consider ladylike."

"I don't mean to say that your particular girl would do all those things, but that these are the things which women allow themselves to do when the other man is in the kitchen. I know one woman who always met the vegetable man with her hair streaming down her back. He used to come just as she was dressing, and she never stopped to arrange her hair before he saw him. Another woman's acquaintance of mine thinks nothing of tripping down to give her meat order before she puts on her dress skirt. To be sure, she was herself in a short kimono, and her petticoats are always things of beauty, but she is not just the sort of woman I would want to marry."

"Another thing," These fellows who come into the kitchen every morning are very observant, and they can give you some idea of the disposition of the woman they see daily. They will tell you that one woman is too familiar with her cook and that another is too unreasonable with the second girl. They will point out that a woman is far from neat because she is not careful about her utensils when she cooks. They know when the young woman of the family comes dawdling into breakfast late every morning, and they promptly put her down as lazy. They notice how this same young woman does her little tasks in the kitchen, and have a decided opinion as to whether she is a good housekeeper or not. They tell by her manner of saying good morning to them whether she is alert, brave and womanly, or whether she is sloshy, whining and fussy.

MINING NOTES.

Coal Shortage.

A Birmingham special says: An illustration of the activity of the Attalla coal trade, and the scarcity of the Pennsylvania supply in New Orleans, was furnished today when Hinton E. Carr, agent for the Pittsburgh Coal Company, was given orders for 100,000 tons of coal for immediate delivery at New Orleans, but was unable to place the order, all mines catering to that trade having all they could handle already.

The Pittsburgh Coal Company itself owns the largest coal mine in Walker County, the Corona, and is shipping 3,000 tons a day to New Orleans, but that does not begin to fill the orders usually met by its Pennsylvania output, which it has been unable to move South down the Mississippi.

A. D. Noe and others from Morganfield, have bought the Cox & Love leases from the Western Kentucky Co., near Marion, Ky. They have already made a contract to have 8,000 tons of lead, zinc and spar mined for 50 cents per ton.

The Morganfield Mining Co., is employing hands to develop the mineral on the farm of I. N. McCormick, near Mattoon.—Crittenden Press.

Mr. Col Richardson, of Uniontown, has the contract for erecting the frame work of the big four track trestle to be erected at the mine of the National Coal & Oil Co., near that place. The greater portion of the structure will be of steel.

The Reinecke Mines are to be represented in miniature at the big World's Fair that is to be held in St. Louis this year. Al and George Mills, brothers, have taken the contract to make small buildings and other things—so as to represent the mines at Madisonville. This on a scale of an inch to a foot. All the buildings at the mines, the tipples, cars, engines and boilers are to be shown in the plan. The whole will be operated by electricity.

Most of the work has been completed, but it is now in sections. When it is placed in position, visitors to the exposition can look at this have a very good idea of what the mines in Madisonville look like.—Graphic.

Charles Heppell, who has been employed at the No. 11 mines, has resigned to accept a position with the L. & N. as brakeman.

Oscar Tweedle and Oscar Bennett visited relatives at Crofton last Friday and Saturday.

The St. Bernard Mining Company will have on exhibition at the St. Louis Exposition four large lumps of coal, two of these will be from No. 11 mine and are the full length of the vein, seven feet high by three and one half feet square, and contain one hundred and seventy one and a half bushels of coal, weighing slightly over six tons. The other two are from Diamond mine and are five feet high and three feet square, containing ninety bushels of coal and weighing a little over three tons. The total amount of coal in the four blocks is two hundred and sixty two bushels.

Nortonville Coal Company's new opening is nearing completion and will commence loading railroad cars in a course of 5 or 6 weeks.

Mr. Dick Ashby is on the sick list this week.

Jno. Colbert, of the No. 9 mine, is on the sick list this week.

Mr. Nick Straker, who has been on the sick list for some time, is improving slowly.

Foley's Honey and Tar for children, safe, sure. No opiates.

The friends of the happy couple offer congratulations.

A Louisville boy discussed himself as a girl and went to the basket ball game at Georgetown. He was dressed elegantly, but the size of his feet betrayed him and he got bounced out by the girls of the game.

The State Revenue Agent of Louisville has filed suit against the Louisville Tank Line Company for omitted taxes on 150 cars, on which no tax has been paid since 1899. He values them at $45,000 for each year.

The physicians of Seebree held a convention recently, in which they adopted a "black list" for the purpose of protecting themselves against a certain class of people who make a practice of beating their doctor bills.

Paduac, Ky., Feb. 29.—Released February 2, E. D. Thompson was re-arrested last night in Marshall county and lodged in jail here today on a charge of passing counterfeit $5 bills, an issue on the First National Bank at Mayfield. New evidence has been found against him.

STRIKE HORRORS DISGRACE COLORADO.

Facts Told in Argument Before Congressional Committee.

VIGOROUS PROTEST AGAINST PROPOSED CONSPIRACY BILL.

Washington, Feb. 28.—"Colorado can literally be called 'bleeding Colorado,' owing to what has taken place there in the last ten years," said J. C. Craig, President of the Citizens' Alliance of Denver, in an address today before the House Judiciary Committee, in opposition to the conspiracy bill. He recounted the various clashes between the unions and the operators in the State, which he declared were attended by violence and abuses on the part of the miners, of such a nature that the newspapers of the State were unable to publish the assaults. He told of many lives being lost through plots, which he said, were proved conclusively against the unions; union men, he said, had rolled kegs of dynamite into shafts, where men were working; cords were extended from elevators to loaded revolvers, placed where they would explode in the deposits of dynamite when the elevator was moved, and many other such plots caused deaths among non-union mine workers. The citizens' alliance was forced to take action against such assaults, and the association grew to a membership of 14,000. Injunctions were then obtained, and "then, and then only," said Mr. Craig, "were we able to proceed with operating mines without daily fear of mine horrors, brought about by diabolical scheming against the wishes of the union."

Mr. Craig spoke also of injunctions obtained by the union against the alliances, which, he said, were not opposed by the alliances, as it had no wish to violate any laws. After the settlement of the strike, by mutual agreement all of the injunctions were dissolved.

Cannot Convict. "No convictions of any person participating in the assaults have been obtained," said Mr. Craig.

When asked for reasons for the failure to convict, he said he believed it due to the sympathy of the police, who are recruited from the ranks of the laborers, and must return to their old vocations when they lose their positions at change of administration. In conclusion, he said his association favored giving the courts the same freedom in passing upon questions of antagonism to labor.

"We had a member of Congress who has the courage of his convictions in regard to right and wrong, and he resigned when he thought he was in the wrong. We are not against labor organizations, but are against lawlessness."

John Galloway, of Dayton, O., representing the non-union employees, told of experiences in his city and the strike there.

"Men made threats against employees," said Mr. Galloway, "and I told the union they were laying themselves liable to the law."

Mr. Galloway was asked to describe the threats, and said the common expression of the union men to the mine workers was, "You give us that job or we'll knock your block off."

"I am a machinist," said Mr. Galloway, "and an actual worker, and I want to say that all of the workingmen are not in favor of this anti-injunction bill."

CONFEDERATE REUNION DATE WILL BE CHANGED

THE FORCE OF DESTINY

Will Finally Reveal The Secret of Bloody Breathit.

"Because the press has been comparatively silent concerning the events that made the record of that county (Breathit) so bloody," is no reason for assuming, says the Lexington Herald, that there has been any "suspension of the silently moving force of destiny toward the revelation of all secrets and the ultimate exposure of the real criminals, whoever they are, and to their punishment. The hanging of Curtis Jett and sentence of life imprisonment imposed on White are of comparatively small importance to the complete exposure of all the secret conspiracies and the acts of the leaders who controlled and used these tools." There seems now a chance that these investigations may be made in the courts. Until the result of these investigations are made known, discretion at least, to say nothing of other considerations, should restrain the General Assembly from enacting the legislation for which there seems no reason except the desire of these men who are now to answer in court the gravest charges known to the law.

Col. Jere Baxter Dead.

Col. Jere Baxter died at Nashville Monday morning after an illness of over five weeks. He was operated on a week ago for abscess and his death was due to his inability to retain nourishment.

Col. Baxter represented Davidson county in the Senate of the last Legislature.

He was the originator and first president of the Tennessee Central railroad, and retired from the presidency about eight months ago, upon completion of the enterprise. He was a brother of Ed. Baxter, special counsel of the Associated Railways of the South, and of Nat. Baxter, former president of the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company.

The Misses Crenshaw Entertain.

Last Friday evening at their home on Railroad street the Misses Crenshaw entertained a few friends very delightfully at an "evening of peanuts" in honor of their cousins, the Misses Richards and Miss Crenshaw, of Hopkinsville.

A number of contests in which peanuts figured prominently were indulged in. These contests were interesting and very laughable.

Mr. Southworth won first prize, a box of peanut candy, and Mr. Roy Wilson won booby, a peanut baby.

After enjoying dainty refreshments and spending a few minutes in social intercourse this very pleasant affair came to a close.

WISCONSIN CURE FOR CONSUMPTION

SALARY OF PRIESTS

Pope Fixes Limit on Amount to be Paid Annually.

Roman Catholic priests in Kentucky are greatly interested in an order recently received from the Pope, asking for a report from every diocese in the United States of salary paid to each priest. This report will be made up and sent to Rome.

The highest salary allowed priests in the Louisville diocese is $800.

The Pope's order is said to indicate clearly that no priest must receive a salary higher than $1,000 a year "and found."

Climatic Cures.

The influence of climatic conditions in the cure of consumption is very much overrated. The poor patient, and the rich patient, too, can do much better at home by proper attention to food digestion, and a regular use of German Syrup. Free expectoration in the morning is made certain by German Syrup, so is a good night's rest and the absence of that weakening cough and debilitating night sweat. Restless nights and the exhaustion due to coughing, the greatest danger and dread of the consumptive, can be prevented or stopped by taking German Syrup liberally and regularly. Should you be able to go to a warmer climate, you will find that of the thousands of consumptives there, the few who are benefited and regain strength are those who use German Syrup. Trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c.
